SUMMARY

I am a university student pursuing a degree in Software Development with a strong focus on frontend development. I have experience working with React, Next.js, and React Native, building modern, responsive, and user-centered interfaces. I also have solid backend knowledge using Node.js and Express, which allows me to work comfortably in fullstack environments. I'm eager to grow professionally within agile teams, contributing to solutions in JavaScript/TypeScript environments, and I have additional experience working with RESTful APIs, relational databases, and version control with Git.

SKILLS

Languages & Queries: JavaScript, TypeScript, SQL, Java.
